Ritrama, Inc. relocates their North American Headquarters to Spartanburg, South Carolina

We are pleased to announce the relocation of our North American Headquarters to Spartanburg County, South Carolina. The new campus encompasses an administration building and state-of-the-art manufacturing facility.

The administration building is designed with sustainable qualities and energy efficiencies; meaning the Ritrama, Inc. Administration building is LEED® Gold certified. The administrative offices will service a range of departments, including Information Services, Human Resources, Accounting, Sales, Marketing, Customer Services and Management.

The 320,000-square-foot of manufacturing and warehouse includes:

- Revolutionary coating technologies
- Advanced robotics for internal logistics and packaging
- Fully automated storage and retrieval system
- New converting capabilities

The facility is a logistic platform to service not only North America, but also export markets. We hope you share our excitement of our new facility and its capabilities; with these advancements we are excited to have the ability to better service your business requirements.
